

Georgia Junior Livestock Foundation Expo Internships

The GJLF is seeking qualified students to serve as interns during the GJLF Expo set for December 10-13, 2025. Internships are volunteered based positions that will allow college students to gain knowledge and experience with livestock show coordination, social media exposure and general administration roles. Applicants should be residents of Georgia to reduce travel expenses. GJLF will provide hotel accommodations for interns, along with meals and GJLF apparel.

Available Internships & Preferred Experience:

- Social Media Intern(s) – intern(s) will be working onsite to prepare social media posts throughout the event. Possible social media content may include interviews, photos, announcements, and more. We are seeking a creative individual that has experience with social media.
- Administrative Intern(s) – interns(s) will be responsible for the show office. Duties include manning show office during office hours, answering questions for exhibitors, distributing/selling GJLF apparel, serving as a point of contact for all specie superintendents. The administrative intern(s) will also coordinate the scavenger hunt, provide assistance for the Family night set-up and event, and provide assistance for the Final Drive set-up and event.
- Specie Interns – specie specific interns will be selected for each specie (Beef, Dairy, Sheep/Goat, and Swine). Interns will assist with event set, check-in and offer assistance through the event to each Specie Superintendent.

These interns will play a vital role to the success of the GJLF Expo. We are seeking outgoing and hardworking college age students with good communication skills. Interns need to be available beginning at noon on Wednesday, December 10 through the conclusion of the Final Drive on Saturday, December 13.

Interested applicants should submit the following application to the GJLF by Monday, October 20, 2025. Send to: Christy Page - info@gajrlivestockfoundation.org
